democratic institutions, based upon free suffrage, can stand any strain. Edmund character, and a culmination of the old Federalism, adds, in a rumble of profound truth and significance, "It was their little tin in idios that secured their disappearance from the world of American politics, and it was this tin that was their ruin." It was that tin that was their ruin that got George to Thomas Jefferson, in spite of his faults of character and his incoherence and errors of public conduct, that controlling power over the minds of men which has not been with him, but in general direction and shape to that they are not of his own country, and in all Christianity." Let us have faith in ideas, in man nature, and in the American system.—A. D. Richardson.

The Secret of Wealth.
From HENRY RUSSELL.

A gentleman who recently met ex-President Fillmore at a social entertainment, being struck by his vigorous appearance, was told by Mr F that he had taken throughout all my public life I maintained the same regular and systematic habits of living to which I adhered previously from childhood. I never drank more than I poured out, and I never drank at all. I never was intemperate. The Sabbath I always kept as day of rest. Besides being a religious man, it was essential to his career. On commencing my Presidential career, I found that the Sabbath was a day of rest enjoyed by voters for private untoward acts by the President. I determined to put it to the custom, and ordered a dis-

The Herald of Health says A daily bath for the whole body is not too much health may absolutely require this, but there are few persons who would not be benefited by a complete washing of the body, from head to foot, at least once every day. The feet need washing as much as the head, as perspiration upon them is very abundant. Feet that are cold in winter and heavy in the summer, are benefited by the necessity of cleansing. Discharge is necessary when water is applied above the crura of digestion, and the washing of the feet helps one to breathe more freely and to do nothing more than to apply and rub the muscles of the back from, of such unscientific statement may be permitted. All will agree that in the second death of summer a daily bath is a luxury to be omitted, but in winter it is hard economy, and the reaction which follows makes it a luxury even in the most pleasant season.

Miscellaneous.

The editor of the Waco (Texas) Register has in his possession a costly talisman of the bed of one of the Indians killed in the recent fight with the Kiowas. This, it is claimed, is the only Indian who has survived the hour of the Indian, what appears to be that of a white woman—doubtless one of the victims of the savage.

The Science of a New Life.—This is the title of a very popular work, for sale by subscription by Mr. and Mrs. L. and M. Gregory, who are conversing the oil regions for that purpose. It is a work of practical science, on the true nature and conduct of the married relation, and is highly endorsed by such clergymen as Dr. Frothingham, of New York city, such philanthropists as Dr. D. Lewis, and such newspapers as the Herald and the Record.

The man who "blew out the gas" before retiring to bed, in a Pittsburgh hotel, last Tuesday, is expected not to recover. He was from one of the rural districts of Old Virginia, and had never seen a gas jet before. The door of his bed room was forced open about 10 o'clock the following morning and he was found insensible, and though temporarily revived, soon became unconscious again, and at last pronounced to be incurable.

In this issue we present the statement of the Secretary of the Petroleum Association for the month of March, including the usual reports of stock, production, &c. It will be observed that the production for the month is stated to be 11,200 barrels or 415 barrels less than in February, and that the stock in iron tanks and at the wells, (no mention is made of any other) had increased during March, and on the 1st inst. 83,047 barrels, against 79,150 barrels on the 1st of March, showing an increase in stock of 3,897 barrels. When it is remembered that the shipments from the region during March were 350,252 barrels, it will be seen that the report of the production is manifestly erroneous, the increase in stock added to the shipments making a total product for the month of 407,140 barrels or an average per day for 31 days of 13,133 barrels.

We compile the following tables:

Stock on hand March 1st, 1870, in Petroleum Association report	83,047
Stock on hand April 1st, 1870, in Petroleum Association report	86,944
Showing the March production to be	4,897
Or an average per day of	158
On the 1st of March, 1870, in Petroleum Association report	83,047
On the 1st of April, 1870, in Petroleum Association report	86,944

OIL CITY, April 14, 1870.

April to the present writing has been but a continued chapter of accidents. All the most approved methods of killing and maiming, are attempted. Activity in assurance the result.

Business, looking up; buildings, going up; better gone up.

Certain boys badly sold on the closing scenes of a drama wherein a spotted duellist was taken for a donkey, and, at the last proved at once the correctness of the taking, and a blood relationship all around.

Dune on House perched majestically on poles. Guests were served by the genial Miles and diners served in "plendid style," best in the city.

Essay contest at Excelsior Hall on Friday eve last was highly interesting. Exciting too, for a fine array of talent was represented by the Essayists, James J. Kinkaid, A. M., A. L. Bennett, Dr. S. J. D. Henry and W. S. Stevenson. Seven men—though it might be said to be the city—were appointed judges. Rev. McNabb, Esq. W. J. Galbraith, H. C. Graham, J. H. Bowman, J. C. Welsh, Jos. Bushnell and D. W. James. Prize—a splendid Chromo lithograph, from original of De Haas—"A Wet Street and a Flowing Sea"—awarded to James J. Kinkaid, whose essay, "The Soul—Immortal," was peculiarly powerful.

Fletcher will visit the "oil regions" in June.

Gilman C. W., M. C., home on short furlough from the city of mags. dis., looking grave as Babbage's counting machine. Probable reason, late heavy speeches on finance, tariff and taxation.

Hardware establishment of Heyn, Dil-lingham & Co. approaching completion. Not very beautiful but commodious, like the majority of our business houses.

Introduction of patent washing machine by the notable Butlett, has reduced the price of gentility and scoured larger congregations to the churches.

J. & F. R. rushing along slowly but surely. We hope soon to be able to get a decent ride to Franklin on the home side of the river.

Kate H. Roberts, Mrs. the modern D-lithis, gives odd readings in Excelsior Hall Monday evening, 18th inst.

Lumberman lying low in the upper country waiting for low water.

Mud is becoming scarce in the streets and we are getting home sick. Send us rain or well none.

New brick hotel to be built in Franklin Exchange removed by fire. Rumor says Franklin has ambitious incendiaries. Natural. Reared in the nursery of great men, they get great bonfires. Divines say the attempt on the new Court House and the burning of the "Exchange" are judgments to punish dishonest opposition to the late launched new county project. Satisfactory furnished by the county. Ask for report.

Opera House in Oil City likely to prove equal to Queen Mary's hives in 1854—drugs. Petroleum House noted for its panches. Panches at the bar, billiards and the human face divine.

Quin Dr. lectures in Venango City on Friday evening. He advertises to prove that "hell fire" is a reality, really uncomfortable, and no "unpleasantly deified fable," as the wicked Dr. and the engineer (well) generally try to show forth. The worthy gentleman handles the subject, "Hell fire" more than with perfect familiarity.

River falling slowly and rapids "pulling out."

Synagogue and Synagogue streets improving in building and business.

The Times is getting to be quite a good paper. Its stability is remarkable; it will continue to during the honeymoon. It was married a short time ago.

Ugh-ugh-ugh, as vented in this virtuous town, is gloriously multifarious, removing its devotees in double quick, average, once a week, (sparer).

Venango City has a fortune teller who never misses. Refers to our best citizens.

Warrior weather for a week has given spring fever to all. We care it at Bailey's soda fountain.

MESSRS. TENNER, MAGINNIS & CO.

The above named, executed in the highest style of the art by Williams, the providing young artist, grace the entrance to the building formerly occupied by Elder, on Spring street, and form the firm name of a new complete hotel and show how justly opened at this locality. Though no "famous" as associated together in a business relation, Messrs. Tenner & Maginnis are not unknown to our citizens, and enjoy an extensive acquaintance in this city and surrounding country, turned. During their connection with Messrs. Funk, Jackson & Fuller.

The interior of the building now occupied by them has been entirely refitted and refurnished, and is filled with one of the finest assortments of boots and shoes including every known article of ladies', misses' and children's wear, that has ever been brought to Titusville. The very best of everything pertaining to the trade has been carefully selected from the most skillful and popular manufacturers in the East, and all goods will be sold at prices comparing favorably with all other dealers. Measures will be taken and orders filled from one of the best establishments in New York city and its guaranteed in every case.

D. HANUS & BRO.—This old established mercantile firm have recently completed the reconstruction of their store on Spring street, and will reopen on Wednesday next. The interior of the store is entirely remodeled, enlarged, and elegantly fitted up. When the improvements are completed and the new crystal-front erected it will be one of the handsomest mercantile establishments in the city. The proprietors are receiving large additions to their spring stock of goods, and the shopping public will find them in every way unsurpassed. The firm have always made it a rule to divide their profits with their customers, and have established a reputation for liberal dealing. Under the new order of things they will largely increase their business. The ladies will bear in mind that Wednesday next is opening day, and may expect a magnificent display accordingly.
